INSPECTING LIQUOR RECORDS

LOCAL W. C. T. U. COPIES NAMES OF PERSONS SHIPPING IN LIQUOR.

Members of the W. C. T. U. are now engaged in inspecting the records of liquor shipped into Pendleton since the prohibition law went into effect and are copying off the names of those securing the liquor as well as the amount and kind of liquor received.

There is considerable curiosity as to the use the organization intends making of this information. One of the members stated this afternoon that the state organization had requested the information but that it would also probably be put to some local use. The task of copying the records is a huge one and has not yet been completed. However, enough progress has been made, the ladies state, to show that the shipments are on the increase. Also they have been able to learn who the habitual users of liquor are. Since the middle of July there has been but little alcohol shipped in, the druggists having refused to sell it on affidavit about that time.

SNYDER ROOMING HOUSE IS BADLY DAMAGED IN EARLY MORNING FIRE

The rooming house of Mr. and Mrs. John Snyder, 513 south Main street, was badly damaged by fire early this morning. Fire broke out in the dwelling about 12:45 a. m. and it was only through the splendid work of the fire department that further damage to adjacent homes was prevented.

Miss Leona Kreuger, an occupant of the house, was carried out of a burning room upstairs by Driver Harry Minnis and Fireman Walter Freeman.

The fire was first discovered by Miss Alice Doane, 517 south Main. Miss Doane, whose room faces the Snyder house, was awakened by a noise similar to an explosion, and at the same time a light blazed like a meteor and burst through the windows. Miss Doane sent in an alarm to the department and Roscoe N. Doane awakened Mr. and Mrs. Snyder. By this time the fire was creeping in at the door which led to the room in which they were sleeping. The back part of the house and some of the furniture was not damaged. The front and upstairs were badly damaged by fire and water.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown, who occupied a front room downstairs, were able to get most of their goods out of the house.

During the fire little Guy Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Snyder, when told that his doll was safe began to cry because he feared all of the doll's clothes were not taken from the house. Mrs. Snyder had been cleaning in the room in which the fire started during the day and had burned up some trash. The cause of the fire is unknown. The loss is estimated at between $1200 and $1500, fully covered by insurance. The property was owned by H. H. Laughlin of Portland.
